

Yes, horses are still stolen in large numbers across the US even though horse prices have plummeted. Why?

What is civil theft? Are you setting yourself up to be a victim? Learn the answers to these questions and more with immediate feedback directly from Debi Metcalfe on what is really happening when a horse goes missing. She is a recognized authority on stolen horses appearing on television and radio programs, quoted in numerous newspaper and magazine articles so, what makes Debi Metcalfe different from others who write or speak about this subject? She has been there, taking 51 weeks in 1997 to find her own stolen horse, Idaho. NetPosse Volunteers and IDAHO Alerts are here today because Debi Metcalfe of Shelby, N.C., established Stolen Horse International to help victims network with others to recover missing horses and equipment. If you've never had the opportunity to be a spectator or participant at Debi Metcalfe's clinic, you've got no idea the depth of knowledge, from the woman who has been there and done that daily, you are missing!

Stolen Horse International's Debi Metcalfe will be in town soon!
